

Rev Chris Brown sings your all time favourite Christmas songs

O LITTLE TOWN OF BRIDGWATER

Recounts the difficult story of a move from one house to another. It's a tale of many boxes and cups of tea. New address enclosed free with this CD!

HARK THE HERALD ANGELS SING, QUIET I CAN'T HEAR THE TELLY!

After finally getting Sky Sports it seems there is hardly any time for doing anything else. Although after emerging from a cricket filled summer they discover that the rest of the channels have been taken over by the IIB (Institute for Inducing Boredom). Chris ends the song with a cry of desperation: why is there never anything to watch? To which a solemn voice replies: you should be at the church anyway.

THE SEVEN JOYS OF MICHAEL

An upbeat number that recounts the adventures of Michael who has passed some exams but sadly has many more to take this coming year. He does well at school and looks forward to College next year.

ONCE IN ROYAL LUCY'S CITY

Although Lucy loves sport (netball, cricket and football) she is forced to go to school and face her first exam. She excels at her work and still has time to play her flute which makes her happy.

WE WISH YOU A MERRY THOMAS

A new school beckons for Thomas. He has outgrown the old and is putting on the new. Sport is a big feature of his life enjoying playing rugby and cricket.

HARK THE GLAD JONATHAN

This song starts with Jonathan having to choose if he will move schools. Saying goodbye to his friends he sets off to start a new life. He finds a good school and is soon settled in and very glad he moved. He even finds a friend who likes Airfix Kits.

CRADLED IN A DOCTORS SURGERY

Michael has his braces removed only for Lucy to need some. Chris takes a while to recover from a minor operation to remove a troubling infection and comes to term with his diabetes.

THE TWELVE DAYS OF CHRISTOPHER

Over 12 festive days Christopher goes Internet shopping and buys things he doesn't need. Alison finds out. Unfortunately she finds out before Chris has a chance to buy his 50 inch flatscreen TV.

WHILE ALISON WASHED THE SOCKS AT NIGHT

Alison juggles being a mother of 4 (or should it be 5?) with being a teacher. She continues with her own business as well and makes a pledge to get fit before the year ends.

HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS?

Not likely! A happy ballad including a trip to France (Agincourt, WW1 battlefields, Disneyland), Dartmoor (Belstone) & Cornwall (Hayle). There was also a chance to get reacquainted with some Praisemaker friends.

AWAY IN A SHOPPING TROLLEY

Jesus makes a rare Christmas appearance.
